Military Fund Calls For $57,200,000

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee, working late last night, approved $57,200,000 for defense, after whittling a Senate-approved $50,000,000 for extra air power down to $1,000,000.

Both Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said Pentagon leaders had failed to produce detailed plans for spending the five billions.

Jessup Denies He's Disloyal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Ambassador Philip C. Jessup swore today that a charge by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) "that I was affiliated with six Communist fronts is false."

Jessup made the statement to a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee considering his nomination by President Truman to be a United Nations delegate. His testimony was in reply to charges by McCarthy that Jessup had "followed all the twists and turns of the Communist line."

Last night the subcommittee made public a finding by the civil service loyalty review board that there is "no reasonable doubt" as to Jessup's loyalty.

Testifying under oath, Jessup denied—as he did last year—McCarthy's accusation that he had "an unusual affinity for Communist causes." The ambassador-at-large, a top advisor to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared: "I will submit evidence which will demonstrate X X X that I have not been a follower of the Communist party line."

Fishy Looking Deal Linked To Chairman Boyle

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators called a young woman witness today to tell whether she ever had orders to conceal payments to William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic National committee chairman.

Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) said she would be asked about what he termed "her orders to help cover up a fishy looking deal."

The witness is Miss Janet Boone, 26, under subpoena to tell the Senate investigations subcommittee of her role in recording payments which American Litho-ford Corp., a St. Louis printing firm, made to Boyle in 1949.

Case Not Closed
Miss Boone is the last scheduled witness in the inquiry. But Nixon, a member of the group, told a reporter "this case is a long way from being closed."

He said a study of Boyle's income tax returns and bank account records for 1949 and 1950, now under way, "already has made it very clear that we need testimony from two additional witnesses whom I shall not now switch to atomic arms won't avert wars, says expert

By WILLIAM S. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The chairman of the Atomic Energy commission has put a "flat no" to theories that an immediate big scale switch to atomic weapons might avert another war and halve 1952 military costs.

But AEC Chairman Gordon Dean did say the United States now has tactical atomic weapons, and made a cautious disclosure that new atomic weapons are being produced.

Answer Is No
Dean testified last week behind the closed doors of a House appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was made available to a reporter today. Dean was asked by Rep. Thomas (D-Tex.) about recent statements that an extra six or ten billion dollars given to the AEC now might avert a war and save up to half of the 1952 military budget. Thomas did not say whom he was quoting.

But the answer, Dean replied, is a "flat no."

Thomas then wanted to know about a prediction made in a Senate speech, Sept. 18, by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) that if, as McMahon urged the United States "mass produced" atomic weapons the cost of an atomic bomb would "become less than the cost of a single tank."

Security Not So Easy
While the cost of an atomic bomb probably can be and is being brought down, Dean replied to Thomas, it would eventually be closer to the cost of "a few tanks" instead of the cost of a single tank. He said he meant the big, expensive tanks.

Before the House committee, AEC Chairman Dean cautioned against any feeling that the field of atomic energy and United States advances as of today are an assurance of security.

"I do not think that there is any quick and easy method of procuring total security," Dean said.

Beat-Truman Move Grows In Southland

By JACK BELL
GATLINBURG, Tenn. — (AP) — A beat-Truman movement among some southern Democrats got new impetus today from James F. Byrnes, South Carolina's Democratic governor.

Byrnes, who served as President Truman's secretary of state, was the first of southern Democratic leaders to put on a flat basis his opposition to the president's renomination.

Dixie Revolt Certain
The former "assistant president" under President Roosevelt, supreme court justice and senator left no doubt that if Mr. Truman is his party's nominee next July he will face a Dixie revolt headed by experts intent on axing the administration politically south of the Mason and Dixon line.

A similar move in 1948 failed despite a four-state defection. But Byrnes and others are just as confident now that Mr. Truman will not be the next president as they are confused about the man who may be his successor.

Warren Keeps Mum
Meanwhile Gov. Earl Warren of California, a Republican, continued to play close to his vest any ambitions he may have to be a compromise candidate—as between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio—for the 1952 Republican presidential nominee.

Warren, who heads a round-table discussion today on law enforcement problems at the 48th annual Governors' Conference here, kept mum about his future political plans.

The only concrete sign that came out the Warren camp was a certain amount of skepticism toward Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 and 1948 GOP presidential nominee, as a leader of the movement to draft Gen. Eisenhower for the nomination.

Warren's friends made it clear they think Dewey could be prevailed upon—under certain conditions—to accept a third nomination despite assertions by the New Yorker's confidantes that this will never happen. Dewey himself has said he would not make a third White House bid.

Like some others, Warren apparently is waiting to see whether there is any sign from Eisenhower of his availability within the next two or three months. The California governor, the 1948 vice presidential nominee, apparently will decide then whether to go outside of his home state in his bid for support for the 1952 presidential nomination.

In charge of the flight, to start from the London airport at 12:30 a. m. Monday, is the most methodical and careful of pilots—Britain's fabulous O. P. (Oscar Philip) Jones.

Should the princess and duke ask him what an Atlantic crossing is like he will be able to tell them nothing of special interest happened on his 250 air tours to America.

Florida Storm Floods Crops

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Florida dried out today after a tropical storm, accompanied by torrential rains, swept across the peninsula from Fort Myers to Vero Beach.

Damage along the lower east coast was confined to small craft, awnings and shrubbery but in the rich Lake Okechobee farming country an estimated 11,500 acres of beans, tomatoes and young potatoes were flooded.

The storm never reached hurricane force (75 miles an hour), but Miami had sustained gains of 50 miles per hour with gusts up to 60. Rainfall in some sections of the state totaled 10 inches or more.

There were no deaths or injuries anywhere in the storm's path from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic ocean, but crop damage was expected to be heavy, in spots. Many highways were flooded.

Okechobee city, on the northern end of the big lake, reported about 22 inches of rain that flooded an estimated 7,000 acres of tomatoes.

Fort Myers, on the gulf coast, had 10 inches of rain in 24 hours and crop damage there was estimated at $100,000.

Accordionist Contino Must Pay $10,000 For Dodging The Draft

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Despite his plea of poverty, Dick Contino, onetime $4,000 a week accordionist, must pay a $10,000 fine for draft dodging.

Contino, 21, is serving a six months sentence at McNeil Island prison farm.

His attorneys told Federal District Judge Michael J. Roche yesterday that Contino is so poor he could honestly take a pauper's oath and has debts of between $20,000 and $25,000.

Judge Roche said Contino's financial status was brought about by people who were "avaricious."

"I'm satisfied that those who took his money can raise his fine," Judge Roche said.

Mighty Allied Barrage Blasts Supply Lines

Big Offensive May Be Under Way

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — A thunderous United Nations artillery barrage roared along the western front today while war planes tried to break up the biggest Red supply effort since the last Communist offensive.

Red troops who held Allied infantrymen to no gains yesterday pressed two battalion-sized probing attacks of their own today.

Censorship Tightened
(A "partial blackout", frequently a sign of an impending offensive by either the Reds or Allies, was clamped on news from the war fronts Wednesday.)

(The tightened censorship was announced by Tokyo headquarters of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme U. N. Commander. There was no explanation.)

(The partial blackout of news was imposed until further notice.)

(While there were indications of a possible Red offensive, a broad United Nations drive could not be ruled out. The news blackout recalled a Red Chinese broadcast Saturday asserting the Allies were preparing to make simultaneous amphibious landings on both coasts of North Korea. The Allied command has not commented on this broadcast.)

Gunfire Near Kaesong
The Far East Air Forces (FEAF) noted significantly that pilots spotted 3,355 Red trucks on the highways Tuesday night — "the greatest number in a single night since * * * the Communists' last abortive offensive" in mid-May. Warships and night-raiding

Mother Has No Hate For Killer

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Mrs. Dorothea Willard Hooker—descendant of two presidents—said today she bears no hatred for Thomas Cahill, unemployed bellhop who told police he slashed her daughter to death.

"I bear him no ill-will. I cannot find it in my heart to hate him," Mrs. Hooker said. She flew from New York to claim the body of her daughter, Dorothea, 28, Cahill's common-law wife.

Mrs. Hooker, of Newport, R. I., is a descendant of presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams.

"Out of this tragedy," she said, "I know will come some good. It will teach people there is no happiness in alcohol."

Cahill said heavy drinking preceded the knife in his dingy flat.

He told police: he slashed Dorothea repeatedly with a butcher knife Thursday after she arose from bed and threatened to leave him. Then, drunk and hysterical, he sat beside the nude body in a macabre wake that lasted three days and nights.

Finally, he notified police and surrendered. He was charged with suspicion of murder.

St. Lawrence Seaway Legislation Revived

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Public Works Committee, which last August pigeon-holed all bills then pending to authorize the St. Lawrence seaway and power project, resumes consideration of a new measure tomorrow (Thursday).

In a joint statement issued from the White House after the Truman-L. Laurent conference, the president said he preferred that the estimated $818,000,000 development be carried out jointly, but, failing that, he supported the Canadians in their proposal to go it alone.

The changed situation brought indications that at least one long-time opponent of the seaway project might be ready to swing over in favor of U. S. participation.

Rep. Secret (D-Ohio), told a reporter that if Canada builds the huge project herself, "we'll be paying tribute to Canada forever."

World's Biggest Oil Refinery In Iran Abandoned By British

ABADAN, Iran — (AP) — The British pulled out of Abadan today to give Iran full possession of the world's greatest refinery.

The British cruiser Mauritius with some 275 Anglo-Iranian Oil company employees, sailed at the Shatt-el-Arab river to Basra, Iraq, early this afternoon.

Storage Tanks Full
From Basra, the evacuees are to be flown back to Britain.

The Mauritius was accompanied by five AIOC sea-going tugs.

Forty other AIOC employees left by plane this morning.

The British departure came after a month of Iranian pressure.

Otherwise there was little activity in this oil town.

The refinery remained shut down. Storage tanks are nearly filled.

K. B. Ross, who ran the refinery for the AIOC, told a reporter that the Iranian National Oil company probably can run the refinery—but only the less complicated equipment producing products such as kerosene, furnace oil and diesel oil.

It was a sad and solemn affair.

More U. S. Reprisals To Choke Off Czech Trade With America

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Officials dealing with U. S.-Czech relations said today the United States still has "cards to play" against Communist Czechoslovakia even after two sharp economic moves yesterday.

The two actions are expected to wipe out most of the sales of Czechoslovak goods in this country. That has amounted recently to about $2,500,000 a month, despite over worsening political relations between the two countries.

The first move was by President Truman. He announced that, beginning Nov. 1, tariff concessions made to Czechoslovakia under the terms of a multilateral trade pact would be suspended.

Shortly thereafter the state and treasury departments got off a double economic play applying to between 75 and 90 per cent of Czech exports to the U. S.

The treasury announced that shipments arriving from Czechoslovakia without required certificates signed by the U. S. consulate at Prague would be assessed a penalty equal to their full value.

And the state department said blandly that its consuls in Prague are too busy to issue such documents without indefinite delay.

In neither case was there any mention of the imprisonment this summer for ten years of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis in Prague.

After Nov. 1, in line with Mr. Truman's proclamation, Czech imports will have to pay the full tariff duties in effect before the international reciprocal trade program went into effect. This action was sanctioned last week at Geneva by the other nations — except Czechoslovakia — in the trade arrangement.

Split Puzzles British Voters

LONDON — (AP) — Parliament gathers tomorrow for formal dissolution and Britain's intensive election campaign gets underway. The battle trends were clear today.

But the British man-in-the-street was asking today: How deep is the patched-up rift in labor ranks? Will the seams hold until after voting day Oct. 25?

Leftist Aneurin Bevan's unexpected show of power at the labor party's Scarborough conference puzzled the rank and file and some leaders, and it brought glee to conservative ranks.

Conservative papers this morning charged that the labor party's moderate-leftist split was wide open again despite claims of the labor party leaders that all is harmony.

Bevan's victory forced defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell from the labor party executive committee and won four of the seven contested seats for Bevanites on the committee.

The conservative press hailed Winston Churchill's campaigning opening speech before 6,000 cheering supporters at Liverpool last night.

Six Navy Men Killed And 15 Injured In Cuban Firing Drill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Accident during an anti-aircraft firing drill in Cuba has cost the lives of six navy men and brought injuries to 15 more, the navy announced last night.

A Michigan man was among those injured. The navy identified him as Lt. Frederick Murz, Mt. Clemens.

The accident occurred in Guantanamo Bay Monday. The navy said the destroyer Gatling was conducting firing practice when a shell from one five-inch gun hit the barrel of another. Shell fragments caused the deaths and injuries.

The six faculty members of the University of Michigan who will lecture in the lecture series, "The United States in World Affairs", which will begin on Friday, October 12 at Escanaba junior high school in Escanaba, at 7:30 p. m., are men who have traveled widely and know at first hand the subjects which they are discussing. The series, which is being presented by the University of Michigan Extension Service, will discuss several trouble spots on the world scene and some of the more vexing problems at the heart of the present international unrest.

Cain Appears First

Professor Stanley A. Cain, who will deliver the first lecture entitled "Food and People", is the Charles Lathrop Pack Professor of Conservation in the School of Natural Resources and a Research Associate in the Institute of Human Biology at the University of Michigan. He has traveled widely and is well qualified by reason of background and experience to discuss the topic which he has been assigned.

"The Problem of China" will be discussed by Dr. James I. Crump, Jr., instructor in Chinese at the University of Michigan. Dr. Crump spent three years in Counter Intelligence and with the Office of Secret Services in the China-Burma-India Theater of World War II as interpreter and translator.

He has just recently returned from Japan where he held a Social Research Council Traveling Fellowship, and studies local government and political attitudes and practices.

John F. Muehl, the third lecturer in the series is the author of two books on India which have had a wide sale and have received very favorable reviews. He wrote "American Sahib" and "Interview With India", the last of which was called "a minor classic" by the New York Times. Mr. Muehl traveled 2300 miles through India by horseback, camelback, bullock cart, and country-craft boat through the village areas of India. His topic will be "The Problem of India."

Nicholas Marbury Efimenko is an instructor in Political Science at the University of Michigan and will discuss "The Problem of the Middle East". Dr. Efimenko returned on September 21 from a nine-month trip to Iraq, Iran, Turkey, and other spots in the Middle East.

Weather Aids Birds; Arrows Bag 22 Deer

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-two deer have been bagged by archers in the first two days of the bow-and-arrow season in Michigan.

The state conservation department confirmed reports of 20 deer shot by archers in the northern lower peninsula and two in the Upper Peninsula.

The department said that generally small game hunters were being impeded by heavy foliage, rainy and cloudy weather and the poor condition of back roads.

Two Hunters Shot

Joseph Eisenhauer, 37, of Farwell, was struck by a charge of bird shot while hunting near Newberry Tuesday. His condition was listed as not serious at Newberry hospital.

Garth Mowery, 19, of Lewiston, was wounded accidentally while hunting in Luce county north of Newberry. State police said he stepped into the line of fire of a companion. His condition also was listed as not serious at Newberry hospital.

More than 35,000 bird hunters and more than 5,000 archers were estimated afield.

Partridge Kill Fair

The conservation department gave this summary of conditions for the first two days:

West end of Upper Peninsula reports hunting pressure moderate for upland game birds, seeing more partridge, sharp-tailed grouse kill good in Matchwood and Topaz areas of Ontonagon county.

West central area of Upper Peninsula reports hunting pressure moderate, fewer hunters than last year. Good partridge kill.

South Menominee county (only Upper Peninsula area open to pheasants) reports light kill of that bird.

Delta county reports plenty of partridge and sharp-tails, kill heavy to good. Alger and Marquette counties report kill light.

Eastern Upper Peninsula reports fewer hunters, kill fair; best in Trout Lake, Cedarville-Hessel and Getzville areas.

Enrollment At MSC More Than Expected

EAST LANSING—(P)—Michigan State college's fall term enrollment is 9.4 per cent less than last year, but still 1,000 students more than expected.

Registrar Robert S. Linton said final enrollment will show 13,578, compared with 14,993 last year. Linton said the total was larger than expected due to a stabilization of the international situation and its effect on young people's plans, the federal draft deferment plan for college youth and the fact that M.S.C.'s advanced military training course carries with it draft deferment.

This year there are 2,056 ex-GI's at M.S.C., compared to 4,056 last year. The campus lists 9,201 men compared to 10,743 last year and 5,227 co-eds, compared to 4,250 last year.

Dr. George Shaw Of Manistique Was Staunch Community Builder

IN every community there are a few persons whose contributions to public service and community welfare are outstanding. Dr. George A. Shaw who died suddenly Monday was such a man in Manistique.

As a very capable and popular physician-surgeon, Dr. Shaw was one of the busiest men in his community. Nevertheless, he was never too busy to lend a hand in any project designed for the betterment of Manistique and Schoolcraft county, or for the Upper Peninsula, or for the State of Michigan, or for the United States of America. He was an outstanding citizen by all standards and a patriot. But most of all, he was a friend to everyone he knew.

Dr. Shaw's professional interests, his activities in Shrine and Masonic affairs, the Knights of Pythias, in the American Legion and the Rotary club extended over a wide area. He was esteemed by thousands of persons who had occasion to know him. The death of Dr. Shaw at the age of 55 as a result of a heart attack was a distinct shock to the community which he loved and served so well.

Dr. Shaw was a great supporter of all sports activities and it was in his love of athletics that he found the most satisfying recreational interests. He rarely missed a high school football or basketball game in his home town and then only when his professional duty commanded it.

Harnischfeger Strike Threat Fades Away

THE settlement of the Harnischfeger labor dispute is good news for the whole community and the surrounding area. The settlement once again proves the good judgment, responsibility and reasonableness of organized labor in this area.

Although two of the main issues in the labor dispute still remain to be determined, the method of approach to the settlement without a costly strike deserves public approbation.

The issue involving the three employees fired on charges of agitating an illegal walkout is one properly for the National Labor Relations Board to decide. It is not in itself an issue to be resolved by a strike of other employees. The union, we believe, has acted with good judgment in putting the issue before the NLRB for a determination of the legal rights of the men involved.

The more complex problem of wages will be negotiated in December when a wage incentive plan will be presented for consideration. All of the details of this plan have not yet been worked out but since the plan offers the possibility of greater wage gains for the employees than is now permissible under the wage stabilization formula, it is apparent that the union has acted wisely in holding off the wage issue for development of the new program.

The threat of a strike has been dissipated by the agreement that has been reached, an achievement in which the entire community rejoices.

RAILROAD SAFETY (Iron Mountain News)

At the turn of the century one out of every seven accidental deaths in the United States resulted from a railroad accident. Today the ratio of such fatalities is only one out of every thirty. In spite of three serious passenger train collisions, each owing to the failure of operating personnel and despite the fact that the railroads performed more than four times as much train service and nearly twice as much passenger service as in 1900, fatalities resulting from railroad accidents of all kinds in 1950 were down 66 per cent and injuries down 34 per cent.

If one excludes accidents resulting from the major menace of crossings at grades, the reduction in railroad fatalities has been 73 per cent. In 1907 4,000 employees lost their lives in railroad accidents. There has been a steady decline in this toll and last year, for the first time, fewer than 350 were killed.

This record of improvement in safety has been brought into focus by the annual award of the E. H. Harriman Gold Medals and Certificates at the dinner of the American Museum of Safety, the oldest national organization in the safety field. One cannot exactly appraise the role of the Harriman awards, but without doubt they have done much to stimulate the competitive spirit in achieving greater safety by the nation's rails. They are eagerly sought and proudly displayed by the carriers, great and small.

The Gold Medals this year were won by the Union Pacific Railroad Company, among the largest carriers; the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Line in the middle-sized category, and the Cambria and Indiana Railroad Company, among the smaller roads.

From the front office to the watchman's tower, the railroads have reason to be proud of their safety accomplishments.

GAINED IN STATURE (Wausau Record Herald)

Secretary of State Dean Acheson seems to have gained considerably in stature from the manner in which he handled the recent Japanese treaty conference in San Francisco.

Maybe it will work out as planned. Maybe it won't. But the general consensus seems to be that it is an outstandingly good treaty. And Dean Acheson played a key role in bringing the treaty into being.

A Midland, Tex., man had his coat blown off by the wind. A couple more income tax blows and he'll lose his shirt.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most amazing inside fact about the recent clean-up of the San Francisco internal revenue office is that certain U. S. officials tried to indict the young man who first pushed this clean-up.

He is Charles O'Gara, assistant U. S. attorney in San Francisco, who for more than a year had tried to investigate and, if guilty, prosecute some of the income tax officials now suspended.

During all this period, it was no secret to high officials that income tax wire-pulling was suspected in northern California. And not only did these officials turn a deaf ear about a house cleaning but they attempted to indict the man who tried to clean house.

The story is almost unbelievable and somewhat complicated. It goes back to August 1950 when U. S. Judge J. Waties Waring of South Carolina, sitting temporarily in California, smelled something wrong regarding a narcotics case and suggested to young Assistant U. S. Attorney O'Gara that he investigate.

From that time—Aug. 5, 1950 until April 3, 1951—O'Gara tried to get a grand jury hearing of suspected internal revenue irregularities. All his efforts were blocked from above.

POLITICS AND TAXES

Meanwhile certain things going on inside the San Francisco internal revenue office obviously merited investigation, merely on the face of them. Here are some instances:

1. An internal revenue employees' fund was collected from brewers, liquor dealers, bookies, prostitutes and delinquent taxpayers. One of the men involved in collecting this fund was John A. Malone, brother of William Malone, chairman of the Democratic central committee for San Francisco and most potent Democratic wheel-horse in northern California.

2. John Malone, brother of the Democratic bigwig, operated an accounting and income tax office of his own, though he was also assistant chief of the income tax division. Malone has now been suspended.

3. Paul V. Doyle, chief office deputy of the San Francisco internal revenue office, also operated an accounting firm and gave income tax advice on the side. He too has now been suspended.

4. John Boland, chief field deputy, maintained a deputy collector, Jack Crowley, as his chauffeur, was a close pal of Chief Collector Smythe, Doyle and Malone. Last week he was suspended.

5. Ignatius Beresford, chief assistant in the wage and excise division, also operated an income tax service in off hours. He has now been suspended.

6. Collector of Internal Revenue James Smythe, now suspended for "incompetence," had admitted under cross-examination before the Kefauver committee that he had been a delinquent taxpayer prior to his appointment to the job of collecting other peoples' taxes in 1945. However, Smythe had been the campaign manager for Democratic Sen. Sheridan Downey and deserved a reward. Furthermore, Mrs. Smythe was one of Downey's secretaries.

RUNAWAY GRAND JURY

The above facts were well known to U. S. treasury officials in Washington, yet U. S. Assistant Attorney O'Gara was not able, for approximately one year, to proceed with any investigation.

Finally, a forthright grand jury, headed by Richard Seward, first of all indicted James M. MacInnes, an attorney in the narcotics case presided over by Judge Waring; and then called in Robert McMillan, chief assistant U. S. attorney, put him under subpoena and asked him, among other things, why the facts unearthed by the Kefauver committee regarding internal revenue had not been followed up. Charles Davis, head of internal revenue's local intelligence unit, was also examined. Neither could give a satisfactory answer.

Consequently, the Seward runaway grand jury directed O'Gara to continue this probe before another federal grand jury headed by John Taylor. On May 16, O'Gara attempted to do so.

But suddenly U. S. Judge Lewis F. Goodman called the grand jury before him, instructed it that it had no power to proceed.

Local political observers believe it may or may not be significant that Judge Goodman was appointed on the recommendation of Senator Downey, close friend of Collector James Smythe, whose office was being probed.

Following this, Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney McMillan took over a new grand jury probe of internal revenue matters, despite the fact that he had previously been called on the carpet by a runaway grand jury and quizzed regarding the government's failure to clean house.

They Shall Not Want

Marshall's Resignation Was Best-Kept Washington Secret In Many A Moon

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Best kept secret in gossip and leaky Washington's memory was Gen. George C. Marshall's recognition as Secretary of Defense. For over three months, the only people who knew about it were President Truman, Defense Under Secretary Robert A. Lovett and Secretary Marshall himself. Maybe they told their wives, but nobody else.

Original date for the resignation was June 30. Then Russia's Jake Malik started the Korean cease fire talk. General Marshall agreed to stay on for a time to see how that would work out. General Marshall took a short vacation in August. Before he left, President Truman agreed to accept the resignation Sept. 1.

Shortly before, Secretary of State Dean Acheson was cut in on the secret. He was about to leave for San Francisco, and didn't want his negotiations there upset in any way by starting new rumors about his own possible resignation. So General Marshall was persuaded to stay till the Jap peace treaty was signed.

Sept. 11 the Cabinet was told, and a few rumors flew around that night, but couldn't be confirmed. Next morning at 9:30, Marshall told his Armed Forces Policy Council. At 10 o'clock he told his official staff and at 10:30 he called in the press.

Stalin Convinces Rokossovski A story that has seeped out of Warsaw to the U. S. Department of Defense concerns the appointment of Russian Marshal Rokossovski as commander in Chief of the Polish army. Marshal Rokossovski didn't like the transfer from the Red Army and complained to Premier Stalin.

Whereupon Stalin is supposed to have replied: "What obstinacy! Isn't it more practical for him to change his uniform than for me to have to dress the whole Polish army in Soviet uniforms?" Rokossovski was convinced.

Russian "Peace Offensive"? Watch for Soviet Russia to launch another big "peace offensive," along about the time that the United Nations General Assembly convenes in Paris early in November. Thwarted by the Japanese peace treaty signing at San Francisco and alarmed by the new "peace contract" which the western European powers are proposing to make with western Germany, the Russians are expected to let go with a heavy propaganda attack on the west. General tenor is expected to be a repetition of the old line that the capitalist war mongers are preparing to launch offensive warfare on the peace-loving democracies of the Soviet bloc.

Something for Legal Eagles There's a nice problem for the Senate on whether the proposed "peace contract" with Germany constitutes a treaty, or whether it's merely an executive agreement. If the former, it would require ratification by the U. S. Senate. If the latter, it could be signed by the President and/or the Secretaries of State and Defense, or even by U. S. High Commissioner to Germany John J. McCloy.

Lawyers can have a field day arguing that the peace contract is not a full-fledged treaty, since it does not finally settle all problems of German boundaries and reunification. But for the sake of bipartisan cooperation, and profiting by the experience with the Japanese peace treaty, the Senate will probably be given a chance to ratify the German peace contract, along about January.

Economy Bloc Is Small

Real size of the economy bloc in the U. S. Senate was shown pretty well in the 69 to 9 vote on overriding President Truman's veto of the bill giving pension increases to some 24,000 veterans with non-service connected disability. In vetoing this bill, President Truman estimated it would cost $16 million the first year, $400 million a year ultimately, when some 300,000 vets may draw pensions for injuries that had nothing to do with war service.

The nine Senators who had guts enough to vote for economy on this were Democrats Byrd, Douglas, Ellender, Fulbright, Gillette, O'Mahoney and Robertson; Republicans Duff, and Ferguson. And not all of these vote consistently for economy, as witness Senator O'Mahoney's opposition to Senator Douglas' efforts to cut military appropriations, causing him to let out his now famous taxpayer's wail heard round the world.

Quite a Dog House Here's another sterling example of Senatorial oratory, anger, semantics and syntax as exemplified in the statement of Idaho Senator Herman Welke before a subcommittee on legislative expenditures:

"... I was disgraced at the furniture and carpeting that was furnished to me as representative of my State in the Malls of Congress. ... I had better carpeting in my dog house in Idaho than I have in my workroom in the United States Capitol, in the Senate Office building. Mr. Chairman, I have only this observation. The United States senators have a selling job to do, and it certainly should be to the point that at least their offices are dignified."

And here's another magnificent example of debate and courtesy on the Senate floor, as demonstrated by two Gentlemen from Indiana: Senator Jenner—"The Senator (Capehart) is making a fine speech, but he is wasting his breath. He is not changing any votes. The press will not report what he is saying, and he might as well take his seat."

Sensor Capehart—"I shall be very happy to do so."

Celebrates Like Capitalist The Romanian minister in Washington, Mihai Magheru, recently threw a big party at his legation, to celebrate the liberation of his country by the Russians. Like so many of the Communist comrades, the Romanians have taken over an ex-capitalist's palace for their official foreign residence. The Romanians in this case took over lock, stock, furniture and even books in the library.

One of the guests at this liberation party got to prowling around the shelves to see what the comedies were reading these days. First volume that caught his eye had the good, Wall Street capitalistic system title, "Principles of Installment Selling." If Moscow ever hears about that, there'll have to be a book burnin' and those responsible should be purged to Siberia.

Letters From The People

Defends RFC

Dear Editor:

Your recent editorials on the RFC, are very unkind, unjust and UNTRUE. On Sept. 13th, you state "The RFC has the RFC cheese" and on Sept. 18th, you state "The RFC shows Moral Corruption" and also you state "At the same time it should convince the American people, that the Democratic Administration should be cleaned out of office, in the 1952 elections, on the grounds of moral turpitude." My, my, what logic you are using these days.

First of all, the RFC is about nineteen years old, and was created because the nations' banking system was unable to make loans to industry as needed.

During its nineteen years of existence, the RFC has made over 600,000 loans to industry, and each of these loans was made, after the applicant produced certifications from the bank that he does business with, and from one other bank, that credit was unavailable. These are known as bank reject loans, and the percentage of loss to the RFC on these loans has been ONE PERCENT, and the RFC has turned over to the Federal Government a net profit of over $600,000,000.

The above figures were given to newspaper men in Washington, by Walter E. Cosgriff, a former Director of the RFC, and who was one of the REPUBLICAN members of the Board. Mr. Cosgriff is a Salt Lake City Banker, and asks for the continuance of the RFC, as essential to the American Economy, because the nations private banking system is either unable or unwilling to meet the National credit needs.

"No one called for the abolition of the Army, when General Beeny Meyers went to jail, for selling our Government short, Cosgriff said in an interview," so why wreck this agency, because of charges, recently uncovered against some individuals?"

If the editor of the Press would check with prison officials, he would find, bankers, lawyers, doctors, business men, newspaper men, laborers, and people of all walks of life, as inmates of our penal institutions, but that does not necessarily mean that the professions and trades they were a part of, should be abolished.

It is my belief, that any official connected with the RFC, who has abused authority and has been engaged in any illegal activity, he should be exposed and punished according to law, no matter who he may be, but the RFC should be continued, as essential to our American economy.

Yours very truly,

Gerald J. Cleary.

So They Say

I'm burned up when I see millions in the foreign aid bill for helping people in foreign countries when we aren't doing nearly enough for the American Indians. The life expectancy of some of the Indians born on an Arizona reservation is but 16 years.—Rep. Frank T. Bow (R., O.).

Good Evening ...

LOST CREEK REAPPEARS — Rufus Spaulding of Kates Bay informs me that Garden Peninsula's Lost Creek reappears within 100 feet of county road 483 near the Rivers' cabin north of Valentine Creek.

We had previously been told the creek that disappears a couple miles inland came out on the shore of Big Bay de Noc. This is not the case, however, for the trail to the "spring" where Lost Creek reappears is clearly visible and is used daily by the Rivers family.

Clarence Moreau of the Delta County Tourist Council has been advised of this and will be interested in knowing of a proposition by the Kates Bay Grange. Spaulding says he will point out the location where Lost Creek emerges—and Kates Bay Grange will put a sign along the highway to mark the spot for the benefit of visitors.

MORE BROWN SWISS—Joe Steff of Delta Swiss Farm, Cornell, pioneer Brown Swiss breeder in the county, drops me a note to say that he overlooked naming three Brown Swiss herd owners when he talked with me last week.

Elmer Nelson and A. Gagner of Cornell and Henry Soderstrom of Rapid River should be added to the growing list of Brown Swiss breeders in the county. Joe reports.

Steff established his Brown Swiss herd in Delta county 21 years ago and has been improving the herd since then with outstanding sires. Present sire is Bowerhome College Royal, purchased from Bowerhome Farms, Bushton, Ill.

Previous herd sires owned by Steff were Babas Joe of Kestlercrest, purchased from Maurice B. Kestler of Ludington, Mich.; West Lawn Silver from Weber and Van Dee West of Sarnia, Wis.; and V. B. Ted Jane Echo, purchased from Jake Voegeli, Jonticelli, Wis.

THE TWO LARGEST—Michigan state parks—11 of them in the Upper Peninsula—were host to several million visitors during the past season.

In the Upper Peninsula attendance at state parks went up to 801,617 for the season, an increase of about 100,000 over last year.

Most popular parks, according to attendance records, are Fort Wilkins at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula, and in second place Tahquamenon Falls in Luce county. Together they accounted for better than 300,000 of the 800,000 attendance.

Big Porcupine Mountains state park, still in the development stage, had 91,000—only a few more than the 89,465 visitors who found recreation at comparatively tiny Wells state park 30 miles south of Escanaba.

SENT IT BACK—A Michigan farmer sent back $11 to the federal government in two separate checks, reports Business Week magazine.

The farmer had received the checks for attending two lectures meant to teach farmers better methods. Neither lecture, said the farmer, had taught him anything he did not know, so he returned the pay.

"Conscience money is an old American habit and a good one," Business Week comments, adding: "But that isn't what catches our eye."

"Have modern farmers been made so blind to their own interests by a paternalistic government that they must now be paid to learn their own business?"

"As part of our far flung political mobilization they are put on the payroll for all sorts of things including lectures that they could perhaps better give than hear."

NOT COUNTY AGENT—For the sake of record in connection with the above item, we must report that the farmer mentioned did not receive pay for attending any of the meetings sponsored by Michigan State college agricultural extension service.

This was brought out clearly at a recent Farm Policy Review meeting in Escanaba called by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

No farmer assisting agricultural extension as a volunteer is reimbursed for time or mileage. This includes local advisors to the county agent, chairmen or leaders of home extension groups, and volunteer aides to 4-H.

Take My Word

For It ... Frank Colby Jr.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

Question: What is the origin, please, of the name of the musical number, Tarantella?

Answer: The Tarantella is a lively Neapolitan folk dance. The name had its origin in tarantola, the Italian word for tarantula.

Now the tarantula was named for the Italian city of Taranto, where the fearful spiders are said to be more than usually plentiful. In days past it was believed that a person poisoned by the bite of a tarantula could be cured by being forced to dance to fast music until he fell exhausted. Such dances were given the name "tarantella."

The word is pronounced: TAR-un-TEL-uh, the "a" in the first syllable having the short sound, as in "carrot."

A wren is a device which sends forth a shrill wail of warning. How did it get its name?

In Homer's Odyssey, the sirens were sea-god Phaeacys. By their sweet singing from the rocks of their island home, they lured mariners to their destruction. But Odysseus sailed safely past, for he had stopped up his sailors' ears with wax, and had bound himself tightly to the mast.

Siren is correctly pronounced: SY-ren, first syllable accented, and the second rhyming with "hen." Be sure to avoid the all too common mispronunciation "SY-REEN."

Worditorial for today: "A dictionary is about as exclusive as Grand Central Station. It does not pretend to report on the way words might be used. It contents itself with telling you the way in which words ARE used."—Alexander Woolcott.

Maybe They Had The Right Idea

FOUR unarmed South Korean soldiers wandered into the neutral zone around Kaesong the other day. They were a DDT squad.

The United Nations command declares these fellows wandered over the line by accident. Even the cynically skeptical Communist negotiators accept this story.

But we incline to a different view. We think the four knew what they were doing. They know where the insects are.

Home Work

You can blow about your knowledge to the youngsters in your house, and although your blatant bragging doesn't ever fool you, spouse, it's a fact the kids once thought you were the smartest guy around, who was something of a genius and a thinker quite profound. When they started in to school and brought their lesson home to do, you could work their little problems and you got the answer true.

But the kids are disillusioned now and ask your help no more, for the tougher grew their home work, then the harder was your chore. Though you say that you can show them how to solve a problem quick, and it's really just a simple bit of plain arithmetic, you may fill a sheet with figures and the answer doesn't come, and where once they thought you plenty smart, they now are sure you're dumb.

It's the same with other subjects, which at home they study hard, and of what you know of history, they have a dim regard. So no longer is it often, when their home work must be done, that they turn to you for wisdom as the wise and knowing one. And sometimes you long for by-gone days in which you were a crown, and your children thought their papa was the smartest guy in town.

Shipwreck Pair Lost For Week In Georgian Bay

OWEN SOUND, Ont.—(P)—Two men told a story of shipwreck on Georgian bay after their boat caught fire, of swimming a mile to land and living for a week without food or fire on a small island.

They escaped by building a raft of logs and floating four miles to the mainland and safety.

The men, Arthur Thompson, 29, of Owen Sound, and his brother-in-law, Edward Smith, 30, of Lansing, Ont., set out Saturday, Sept. 22 on a week's hunting trip by boat to Collin's inlet on the north shore of Georgian bay, which is about 250 miles north-east of Detroit. At noon that day their boat, the 26-foot cabin cruiser Glory, caught fire and burned.

No Matches

The men swam a mile to Tiny Barrier Island, four miles from the west shore of Cape Croker which juts into Georgian bay from Bruce peninsula.

They were without matches. Each afternoon bitter cold forced them to huddle until morning in an Indian fish house on the island. Hundreds of ducks flew over but the men could only watch them. Their guns were at the bottom of Georgian bay.

The once-bountiful supply of chokecherries growing on the island dwindled. They watched frogs but decided not to eat them raw.

Monday they began to build a raft. They used fishnet and wood from the fish house but on their first attempt, the raft sank.

Blocked By Weather

By Tuesday they had finished a raft six feet long by three wide and one deep. But bad weather set in. Gales roared over the tiny island and spray drenched the men.

Finally, Saturday, winds blew in the right direction and they set out for Cape Croker. In 2½ hours of paddling and floating they landed.

They walked three miles through bush before they found Fred Jones of Cape Croker, who took home and gave them their first meal in a week.

During the ordeal, Thompson suffered from burns on his right forearm and wrist, incurred in the boat fire.

Detroit Tunnel Tolls Boosted

Bus Fares 15 Cents; Cars 60 Cents

OTTAWA—(P)—The Canadian board of transport commissioners, in a decision made public Monday, disallowed increases in tolls proposed by the operators of the Windsor-Detroit tunnel but approved a modified scale of increases.

The board said the Detroit and Canada tunnel corporation may put the approved rates into effect on three days' notice.

Chief increases permitted are these:

1. The tunnel-bus passenger fare will go to 15 cents from 10 cents for a single trip and to 30 cents from 25 cents for three tokens. The company wanted to make this 15 cents for a single fare and two tokens for a quarter.

2. A passenger automobile and driver may be charged 60 cents for a single trip, or $4 for 10 tickets. The present rate is 50 cents for a single trip, with 10 tickets for $3.50 and 25 for $7.50. The company wanted to cancel the commutation fares, making it a straight 50 cents for all cars. The board's proposed new rates would apply to taxis as well as non-commercial passenger vehicle.

Other approved new rates:
Motorcycle and rider, 35 cents; ambulance, hearse, fire apparatus not on call, unoccupied bus and driver, 60 cents apiece; trucks, one cent per pound gross weight with a 60-cent minimum.

Coal furnished 89 per cent of all energy consumed in the United States in 1899; by 1938, it provided only 49 per cent.

Soo Bond Tax Rate Is Raised

School Board Bows To State Ruling

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(P)—The Sault Ste. Marie school board bowed Monday to state demands to raise its tax rate to $8 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The board insisted, however, that with a rate of $5.51 per $1,000 it would have had sufficient funds to meet bond requirements and declared that the state's action would cause "considerable hardship" to taxpayers.

Attorneys for bond holders insisted on the $8 rate, saying one of this amount was promised when Sault Ste. Marie sold $1,650,000 worth of bonds in 1949 to finance a building program.

The state municipal finance commission upheld the demands of bond holders, and the school board today wired Chairman D. Hale Brake, who is also auditor

Anderson, Pat Perry, Virginia Burnette and Nancy Wickham.

ASK ABOUT WARDS TIME PAYMENT PLAN TODAY

General: "The Sault Ste. Marie Board of Education submits to your demands."

At a meeting with state authorities in Lansing Friday, the school board said it was told by representatives of Attorney General Frank G. Millard that the finance commission had no discretion in the matter and the tax must be raised.

The board argued that when it issued the bonds the assessed valuation of property was $19,000,000, against a current value of $25,000,000.

It also argued that citizens were told when they voted the bonds with an $8 proviso that if this rate proved more than sufficient to meet bond requirements it would be lowered.

The board said that with the $8 rate it will retire all bonds callable over the next five to seven years and then will slash the rate as much as possible. It holds that after all callable bonds have been retired it can slash the rate, even under state interpretation.

Southern Michigan Deer Grow Faster Due To Lush Feed

LANSING—(AP)—The advantage southern Michigan deer have over those in the north as far as food is concerned was demonstrated by the 10-point buck fatally injured recently after a rampage through Ecorse.

The animal turned out to be the youngest 10-pointer on record in Michigan. Conservation department biologists discovered by a study of its teeth that it was only a year and a half old.

Little competition for the lush southern vegetation was given as the probable cause of the deer's phenomenal growth.

In contrast, deer in the food shortage area around Mio have been found with one-inch antlers even though they were two and a half years old. One and a half year old bucks with three-inch spikes are common around Mio, the biologists said.

Air Force Reserves Being Reclassified To Spare Careers

By EDD ROUTT

DALLAS—(AP)—If you're an Air Force reservist—and have become, says a dentist, since being discharged—chances are you won't return to the old gun post if Uncle Sam beckons.

At least that's the hope of the Air Force's current experimental reclassification program—going on now in Dallas and San Francisco.

"Things can happen to a man in five years," explained Capt. J. W. Godbold of Decatur, Ga., spokesman for the program here.

"For one thing, the reservist's record file has become badly outmoded."

Capt. Godbold gave this example:

"We recalled a former engine mechanic. We couldn't very well put him back on his old job because during his five years in civil life he had completed study to enter the medical profession.

"It cost the Air Force about $300 to get that bit of information on one man. We had to send him back home and call another reservist for the mechanic post.

"That's the sort of thing we hope our reclassification program will eliminate."

The captain put it this way:

"In the last five or six years the Air Force has spent its money on air planes and equipment. Reserve records have been drastically neglected.

"They have to be brought up to date and two methods are being tried."

In Dallas a team of 49 Air Force men personally will interview the estimated 2,500 reservists, checking their physical condition, occupational qualifications and availability status.

That's right—your position in civil life may make you unavailable for recall to the Air Force.

The same program, essentially, is being carried out in San Francisco, except mailed questionnaires are being used instead of personal interviews.

The questionnaires are cheaper, but personal interviews are more thorough. The Air Force will decide in about six weeks just which of the programs to launch on a nationwide scale.

Macomb Prosecutor Convicted Of Bribes Wins New Trial Plea

LANSING—(AP)—Wilbur F. Held, former Macomb county prosecutor convicted of taking bribes in 1949, won a new trial from the state supreme court.

The court set aside Held's sentence of 15 months to five years in prison for accepting a $400 bribe from Arthur Sauve, a slot machine operator, and for conspiracy to protect gambling.

The unanimous decision—with two judges not sitting—hinged on two facts: a grant of immunity from prosecution given Held by the Macomb county grand juror, Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke of Harrisville, and the introduction at Held's trial of testimony he had given in the bribery examination of former prosecutor Ivan A. Johnston.

Both prejudiced the jury against him, the court said.

Charlene Loeffler, Bernard Danhieux Wed At Spalding

POWERS—Miss Charlene Rae Loeffler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Loeffler of Spalding and Bernard J. Danhieux of Green Bay spoke their marriage vows before the flower adorned altar of St. Francis Xavier church in Spalding Saturday morning, September 29. The service was read by Father Bernard Karol.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white bridal satin, exquisite imported French lace the only detailing on the classically styled gown. A full skirted skirt ended in a formal train. Her tiered veil was secured by a French lace coulet. She carried a bouquet of white mums and roses circling an orchid. Her only adornment was a two-strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard Loeffler who was matron of honor and Mrs. Norbert Danhieux, bridesmaid, wore identical gowns of moss green and oin gold satin with overskirts of net and long fingertip gauntlets. Their headpieces were yellow roses and mums and they carried corresponding bouquets shading from yellow to copper. Rhinestone necklaces, the bride's gift, completed their attire.

Dinner and Reception

Norbert Danhieux was best man for his brother. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danhieux of Green Bay. Ushers were James Stengel and C. W. Monmaers.

Mrs. Loeffler wore a wisteria ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of white flowers for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a light print with black accessories and a like corsage.

The bridal music of the service was played by Miss Mary Joy Schroeder.

The wedding dinner for 50 guests was served at the bride's home with autumn flowers and tapers in crystal holders decorating the tables. The bride table was in silver and the unusual wedding cake was in the shape of a bridge on which were doll replicas of the wedding party. Presiding at the silver services during the afternoon reception were Karen Mitchell and Kathy Loeffler of Escanaba, a cousin of the bride.

When the young couple left for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan the bride was wearing a fireman's red gabardine tulle suit with gray accessories and the orchid from her bouquet as a corsage.

The newlyweds will live in Al-louez. The bride is secretary for the American Liability Co. in Green Bay and her husband is a draftsman for the Wisconsin State Highway department at Green Bay.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

by Sue Donizus

DISCOURAGED sultor: She gave me the geological survey—you know, the stony stare!—Indeed I do know! The stony stare is what I got from the water at our house—it was as hard as rocks till I discovered Culligan Soft Water service! Now that water is giving me the velvet touch. Clothes just get cleaner and softer in soft water. And most important these days—they give longer wear! You'll like the savings you'll find in the soap bill—and even savings in making tea and coffee—for it takes less of each to brew a better beverage with soft water. If your water supply is on the rocks, and your budget has hit rock bottom, just call for Culligan Soft Water.

AS she bent over the ironing board I heard that career girl remark, "My schedule is too full for this pressing business!" She'd love the new nylon tricot blouses at the Fair Store—they never have to see an iron! White as snow—the two new styles are the kind you can wash and dry in two minutes flat. One blouse has three horizontal tucks across the front, short sleeves, and a Johnny collar with a perky small black bow. The other is tucked all across the front vertically, is also short sleeved and has a smart jewelry neckline. I suggest you tuck either one under your arm next time you hit the Fair. For that nylon blouse under your arm will mean time on your hands—for other pressing business!

AFTER five evenings alone at home I've decided it's as hard to find a husband after you're married as before! But listen, gals, you want to round up those men this week and get them down to Young's Haberdashery, where a marvelous new shipment of men's slacks has just arrived. Always that top quality at Young's, and I raved over their shark-skin, gabardines, Indianhead weaves, and Bedford cords with both small and regular wale. Size 28 to 46; from $9.95 to $20. Not too early to be looking for those Christmas gift sweaters either. Prices begin at $6, and you'll find every style and color. Calling all men! Yoo hoo, honey!

YOU don't have to be in a key position to open the door of opportunity. I know one opportunity that can be had by just average old me and you—and that's the chance to own a new Studebaker. Since that amazing car has entered the lowest price field of cars, it's within reach of everyone. Don't know how they do it and still give us that high powered engine, that sleek streamlining, and all the special Studebaker features. Yes, a car key to a new Stude can unlock the lot of happiness. They have the key to the situation down at Peterson and Jacobson Auto Service. Better stop by soon for a look at this deluxe car—it'll have you all keyed up!

FIRST fall snow the other day—I mean, first snow fall—Ah, this temperate Escanaba climate! Well, if the snow doesn't suit you, you'd better let it snow suit your youngsters. Scoot into Penney's to take a look see at these tempting buys: poplin two piece suits for boys—3 to 10—in navy and brown. The jacket's alpaca lined with a mouton collar; $12.75 and $14.75. Another suit has wool pants and a satin jacket with an attached hood; also alpaca lined sizes 3-6; $12.75. For lassies 3 to 6x, satin top with wool trim and snug wool pants; blue, green or maroon with gray; $12.75. All water and wind repellent.

If you'd like to have use a scent and save it too, try the specially priced "try packet" of D'Orsay fragrances from Gust Asp's. A delightful new adventure for smart noses is offered in the gay golden box which contains three bottles of long lingering eau de toilette—"Le Dandy", "In-toxication" and "Divine". Only $2 for the whole set of three, and each bottle holds a generous half ounce of the fragrance. A lovely gift idea, or a morale builder for yourself. Stop at Gust Asp's this week and ask to see the D'Orsay triple threat package. It makes scents!

LOTS of open minds should be closed for repairs! I wish I could hang a "closed for repairs" sign on our front door. First I'd have my man build all those extra shelves and cupboards I've been needing and nagging about! Then I'd get a new floor on the back porch where I have that walking-on-eggs feeling. And of course I would insist that all the materials come from that quality lumber company Stephen-son's. If I didn't things might really be in a fix. But I know I can count on Stephensons for fine, seasoned lumber for any kind of building project.

GOT caught speeding—and one arm driving at that! But it was only at Cloverland Commercial College where I was pushing my pencil at an incredible rate only a few weeks after I enrolled in the new type of shorthand class, A-B-C Speed Writing—that's the ticket! This new type of shorthand enables you to take 120 words of dictation a minute after only 6 weeks of instruction. Enroll now Monday in day or evening classes at Cloverland. Stop in and see this new method—speak to the pupils in the class. You'll find you're in pretty fast company with A-B-C Speed Writers!

Value Of Free Press Stressed

Escanaba Editor Is Elks Speaker

The importance of a free press in the American way of life was emphasized by William J. Duchaine, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, during a talk on National Newspaper Week at the annual Elks fall bowling banquet Monday evening.

Men who work on newspapers have always been impressed by the importance of National Newspaper Week, he said, but they are particularly appreciative when an outside organization like the Elks undertakes to observe the week.

He described the role a newspaper endeavors to portray, stressing the point that newspapers devote a great amount of space to community development. He said that in the over-all picture the amount of space actually used to carry stories on crime was small compared to articles devoted to community upbuilding.

First Newspaper

Tracing the history of journalism, the speaker said that the first newspaper was believed to be a court journal published about 500 A. D. in Peking. He also mentioned news bulletins penned by Roman scribes in early European history as being predecessors of modern newspapers.

The first American newspaper was "Public Occurrences", published in 1790, he said.

Discussing freedom of the press, Duchaine said that newspaper criticism of government was permitted in very few countries today. He directed attention to La Prensa in Argentina as being one of the last great newspapers to be destroyed by a government which was unable to stand the printing of truth.

Many Martyrs

Many men have been martyrs in the effort to preserve a free press, the speaker said. He cited Elijah Lovejoy, publisher of an anti-slavery paper, as being one of the first. Lovejoy was slain from ambush in 1837. William Oatis, American journalist now imprisoned in Czechoslovakia for espionage, is a modern martyr to the cause of newspaper freedom, he stated.

Duchaine was introduced by John W. Kelly, who served as toastmaster at the dinner program. Other speakers were Fred H. Hahne, exalted ruler; George Schweikert, house committee chairman; Carl Carlson, bowling chairman; E. H. LeBrasseur, bowling secretary; O. J. Schuster, activities chairman; and Walter Faught, a visiting Elk from Petoskey.

Bowling Winners Are Announced At Elks Banquet

Bowling winners during the second half of last year's schedule were announced at the annual Elks fall bowling banquet Monday evening by E. H. LeBrasseur, league secretary.

In announcing the winners LeBrasseur also presented cash prizes to the various top teams. Winners were listed as follows: First, Tigers; second, Toolmakers; third, Chevys; fourth, Van-Eyck's; fifth, Lumberjacks; sixth, Barney's grocery; seventh, Ethiopians; eighth, Malloy's.

Michigan Coach Sees Hope In Losing Start

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Coach Bennie Oosterbaan sees hope in the Michigan Wolverines' poor start this fall.

The Michigan coach is the last one to deny his Wolverines looked poor. In fact, he'd agree at least partially to almost any negative adjective.

But he is sold on the belief that improvement will be forthcoming for two reasons:

Two Reasons
1. Blocking and tackling, almost non-existent in the rout by the powerful Michigan State Spartans last Saturday, is getting plenty of attention. A change for the better is inevitable.
2. Enough new players showed encouraging signs in the debut to give cause for hope.

"Sure, we made mistakes—lots of them," said Oosterbaan. "But our new boys will improve."

Sophomore Guard Dick Beison and another second-year man, Center Dick O'Shaughnessy, typify the reason for the optimism. "Both of them made mistakes, and costly ones," said Bennie, "but they're both fighters." Oosterbaan is convinced they learned a lot in the opener against MSC.

Learned A Lot
"One game like that will teach a player more than hours of coaching," he said. O'Shaughnessy, a 190-pound

48th World Series Will Open Tomorrow

NEW YORK — (AP) — Baseball's 48th world series opens tomorrow—a fact that is not exactly news but one that may have been overlooked in the furor of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants trying to decide the winner of the National pennant.

A few things are certain. For one, the New York Yankees will represent the American league in quest of their third straight world championship.

Allie Reynolds, winner of 17 games, including two no-hitters, and loser of eight during the regular season, will pitch the opener for the Yankees. That also is known. Manager Casey Stengel announced it several days ago.

Open At Stadium

The games will start at 1 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The first two will be played at the Yankee stadium, the third, fourth and fifth, if necessary, in the National league winners' park and the next two, also if necessary, on the Yankees' grounds. It is a best of seven proposition.

But nothing else is known. The other facts are in the laps of the gods and the pitching arms of Sal Maglie of the Giants and big Don Newcombe of the Dodgers.

In their mound performances today lies the answer to the question of whether it'll be Leo Durocher's miracle men of New York or Charlie Dressen's power-packed Dodgers of Brooklyn that'll bid for baseball's highest honors against the favored Yankees.

The National league teams went into the final game of their play-off series at the Polo Grounds today all square at one game each. But regardless of the outcome, the Yankees will be favored to win the series. Odds-makers today made them a 5-8 choice to cop the series and 6 to 7 to take the opening game.

Stengel's powerful mound crew, headed by Reynolds, Vic Raschi (21-10) and Ed Lopat (21-8), is expected to pitch the plans of Durocher and Dressen were two-

Seven Teams Unbeaten In U. P. Grid Circles

Undeclared football teams still dot the Upper Peninsula, with seven schools remaining in the unblemished list.

Three were dumped from the running in last weekend's action, with Escanaba, Gladstone and Ontonagon tumbling.

At least one more prep eleven will join the ranks of the fallen this weekend when Stambaugh and Iron River tangle. The cross-town rivals meet Saturday night.

Crystal Gazer Picks Illinois Over Wisconsin

By JERRY LISK
CHICAGO — (AP) — Having sorrowfully underestimated Notre Dame and Michigan State, here's another Midwest stab by a scatter-shot swami:

Illinois 20, Wisconsin 14—That is, if it doesn't rain. And if it does rain, Illinois doesn't try to pass, like past year when a stolen aerial gave the Badgers a mud-coated 7-6 victory. Ray Eliot won't take the Wisconsin so lightly this time and the Illini have the horses to go. This one could be for the Big Ten title.

Michigan State 13, Ohio State 7—Gotta play the book on this one. The Buckeyes could have been beaten by Southern Methodist, only the Mustangs forgot to put handles on the ball. Any team that beats any Michigan team, 25-0, is cooking on the front burner. Which is why M.S.C. today rates No. 1 in the national AP poll.

Purdue 14, Iowa 13—This could go either way. Hawkeye speed is the best in years and Iowa whipped Kansas State only 16-0 because it blew seven chances within the 15 yard line. But Purdue's Dale Samuels can break up anybody's football game.

California 18, Minnesota 7 — The West Coast climate and Pappy Waldorf's second-ranked Bears are too hot for Wes Fesler's frisky Gophers. Washington's Huskies can advise California, however, not to dilly-dally against Minnesota.

Michigan 14, Stanford 7 — If San Jose State can score two touchdowns against Stanford's four, the Wolverines should be able to bounce back from that Michigan State lacing.

Northwestern 21, Army 7 — There's still some life left in the cribbing-chastised Cadets, but not enough to upset Northwestern's snappy young Wildcats. It's Army's first visit to the Chicago area since 1926 when the Cadets played Navy to a 21-21 tie at Soldier Field.

Indiana 19, Pittsburgh 13—The Hoosiers weren't as bad as that 48-6 drubbing by Notre Dame might indicate. The problem is, can Clyde Smith get their chins off their chests?

Notre Dame 42, U. of Detroit 0 (Friday Night) — A fine spot for the Irish to test their "Is" for Southern Methodist the following Saturday.

Marquette 28, Iowa State 21—Ought to be a free-wheeling contest. The Hilltoppers are chipper after giving Wisconsin a stiff debate. Iowa State scored five touchdowns in losing to Kansas 33-33.

National Pitchers Tired
Unless, however, something goes awry today, either Durocher or Dressen can lead with one of their aces in the series opener.

Preacher Roe, winner of 22 and loser of only three but knocked out of the box in his last appearance, is certain to get the nod for the Brooks. Larry Jansen, with a record of 22 and 11, is the No. 1 mound selection for the Giants. Neither has pitched since last Sunday.

But from there on, the Yankees can throw fresh hurlers into the fray while either of the National league managers counter with mighty tired men.

Regardless of the Yankees' opponent, however, a capacity crowd of some 70,000 will be on hand when either Eddie Stanley of the Giants or Carl Furillo of the Brooks face Reynolds as the lead off batter.

World series clashes between the Yankees and the two National league clubs have been fairly common in the last 30 years. The Giants and Yanks have tangled five times.

Holy Cross Leads In Grid Yardage

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Holy Cross Crusaders are off to a head start in the race for offensive honors in college football.

The Crusaders piled up 611 yards in crushing Harvard last week to lead the rest of the nation's major colleges in attack. Figures come from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Other leaders in overall offense are Maryland, 498 yards; Washington 472; Oregon State, 456.5; Clemson, 447; San Francisco, 446; Kentucky 444.7, and Princeton, 443.

Rename Hengesh Highland Golf Club President

Hazen Hengesh was reelected president of the Highland Golf club at the annual meeting of club stockholders last night in the clubroom.

Also renamed for the coming year were Merton Jensen, vice president, and Einar Beck, secretary-treasurer. Named to the board of directors was Earl Brown who will sit with the three officers and Ernest Flath, George Walter, Grover Lewis, Ben Douglas and B. M. Stude. Flath and Walter were reelected to the board.

Plans for changing the course of the creek bed which runs through two holes on the Highland links were made. Work will be begun as soon as weather permits.

A fertilization program will be carried on with all expenditures being made on the course, other than necessary club maintenance.

The New York Rangers will be the last club in the National Hockey league to open their season at home. The Rangers' inaugural at Madison Square Garden will be Wednesday, Oct. 24 against the Boston Bruins.

St. Joe Host To Norway Saturday Night At 8 P. M.

The St. Joe Trojans, winners of their last two starts against Bark River and Lourdes of Marinette, will return home Saturday night for a sterner test.

Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans will entertain the Norway Vikings Saturday night, at 8 p. m., at Memorial field.

This is the game St. Joe has been pointing for, and the Parochials feel they have their best chance in years to knock off the Ronbergmen from Norway.

"Stop Bergwall"
Theme song of the Trojans this week is "Stop Bergwall". Bergwall is the big Norway fullback who has been outstanding in Viking games this season. He scored Norway's two touchdowns against Escanaba and last week ran 106 yards against a good Iron Mountain team.

Practice sessions here have consisted mostly of pass defense and offensive blocking. Workouts have been spirited and most of the Trojans are in good physical shape.

About the only doubtful starter is John Martinac, hard working fullback. Martinac's charity horses are still bothering him and he has been taking treatments thus far this week.

Brilliant Performance
But Pete Kutches, Bill Baker and Jim Gravelle will be ready in the St. Joe backfield. Kutches had a "once in a lifetime" day against Lourdes last weekend in which he gained 314 yards rushing for perhaps the best individual schoolboy performance in the state this football season.

The St. Joe forward wall, which has held its last two opponents scoreless, is also ready. Bob Sed-enburgh and Bill Maycunich will be at ends, John Jungles and Bob Pepin at tackles, Harlon Pepin and Jim Cashin at guards, and Tom Brien at center. Tom Gasm-an, Leon Mileski and Bob Berge-on are slated for first string defensive action. Bob Pepin has a sprained ankle which may cause him some loss of time.

The game Saturday night begins a three-week home stand for the Trojans. On successive Saturday nights they will be host to Crystal Falls and Munising before closing out the season at St. Paul Sunday, Oct. 28.

Giants, Dodgers Battle Today For Pennant

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK — (AP) — Today is flag day in the National league.

The entire season is wrapped up in today's game for those old flaming baseball antagonists — Brooklyn's redoubtable Dodgers and New York's miracle Giants.

Deadlocked at one playoff victory apiece, the bitter interborough rivals clashed head-on in the rubber game this afternoon with each manager shooting the works and no quarter given.

The game shaped up as a burning battle for the pennant between two of the game's finest right-handers, Sal Maglie of the Giants and Don Newcombe of the Dodgers. With so much at stake, neither pilot, Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers nor Leo Durocher of the Giants, had much choice but to come in with his ace.

Maglie, winner of 23 games and loser of only six, has beaten the Dodgers five times in six decisions. He was 4-0 against them last year. Newcombe (20-9) has been almost as efficient against the Giants whom he's whipped five times in seven starts this year.

Despite Brooklyn's stunning 10-0 victory yesterday, the Giants were a 6½ to 5 choice to turn the tables and earn the right to meet the Yankees in an all-New York World Series starting tomorrow at 1 p. m. (EST).

The weatherman predicted "fair and warmer" with the temperature in the low 80's and moderately fresh winds, contrary to the gloomy rainy weather which marred yesterday's game.

Newcomb Worked Hard
Experts conceded a slight edge to the Giants because Maglie was to pitch with his normal three-days rest. He last worked Saturday, shutting out the Braves in Boston on five hits.

On the other hand, Newcombe hurled a shutout in Philadelphia the same night and then, in an emergency, added five and two-thirds more innings of shutout ball in relief on Sunday. That meant three calls in five days for big Don and his fourth in an eight-day span.

The 240-pound Dodger ace, who came out of Philly complaining of a sore arm, said his arm was still tight yesterday. Preacher Roe, brilliant but frail Dodger south-paw with 22 victories, might have been the logical starter under those circumstances, but the 33-year-oldster has not had his required rest. He last pitched Sunday.

While both pilots purposely refrained from appearing too optimistic, each felt his team would emerge victorious.

Labine Masterful
Labine, 25-year-old curve baller from Woonsocket, R. I., pitched a masterful 10-0 game as he gave the Dodgers their first victory in their last six Polo Grounds starts. He walked three, fanned three and pitched himself out of some tight spots in the early innings.

For a youngster whose big league experience consists of a little over two months, the lean right-hander showed a lot of poise and coolness under fire. He came to Brooklyn from St. Paul of the American Association July 23.

The Giants threatened to break through in the second when Bob-bey Thomson doubled and moved to third as Willie Mays singled with one out. Labine escaped unscathed by getting Wes Westrum on an infield pop and Pitcher Sheldon Jones on a roller.

Labine brought the crowd of 38,609 to its feet with a superb pitching performance in the next inning. An error, single and walk filled the bases with two out. Then with a full count on the dangerous Thomson, the kid calmly served the Giants' hottest hitter a curve that Bobby swung at and missed.

While Clem was carving out his fifth win against one loss, Jackie Robinson and his slugging mates were clubbing Jones and Relievers George Spencer and Al Corwin for 13 hits including four home-runs.

Robinson Pace-Setter
Robinson led the onslaught with a home run and two singles. His homer got the Dodgers winging to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. His first single shelled Jones from the mound in the third. His second single drove in a run in the fifth.

Al Walker, subbing for the injured Roy Campanella, had his best day as a Dodger with three hits including a tremendous homer in the ninth. Gil Hodges crashed his 40th homer and Andy Pafko walloped his 30th.

The Giants, due for a bad day after such a miraculous stretch drive that had netted them 38 victories in their last 45 games, not only failed to hit in the pinches, but chipped in with five glaring errors that led to five unearned Dodger runs.

Durocher's decision to start Jones rather than Maglie caused fans and experts alike to second guess him to a fare-thee-well. Jones, a six-game winner against 10 losses, had dropped three out of four to Brooklyn before yesterday. He hadn't pitched in nine

Detail Work For MSC As Ohio State Test Nears

EAST LANSING — (AP) — Biggie Munn and his coaches concentrated on painstaking attention to detail this week as they readied top-rated Michigan State for Saturday's football meeting with Ohio State.

There was one item of bad news in the MSC football camp.

Wayne Benson, the number one fullback from Harvey, Ill., appeared on the sidelines on crutches at Tuesday's practice. Benson was limping badly from his knee injury and team physician Dr. Charles F. Holland said he definitely would not be able to play

Couillard Case Heard By Jury

Court Denies Motion To Dismiss Charge

A circuit court jury today will receive the case of Leonard Couillard, 26, Cornell St. 1, charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal.

Judge Glenn W. Jackson denied a motion by defense counsel asking that the indictment be quashed and Couillard be discharged.

The motion by defense counsel was made after Charles DuRoy of RuRoY Auto Service, Gladstone, testified he had given Couillard permission to drive a car for testing out, and had by telephone approved Couillard's request, to keep the car "a little longer."

Now On Probation

The court in denying the defense motion held that DuRoy's permission did not include use of the car beyond a testing out period. Couillard was taken in custody at 2:30 a. m. in Rapid River where he had eluded Gladstone police who had stopped him there and ordered him to drive to the police station.

Couillard at the time of his arrest in August was on probation following conviction on a charge of breaking and entering. He has been held in jail about two months in default of bond.

Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle in arguing against the motion by the defense pointed out that anyone might approach a licensed auto dealer and obtain permission to test a car. In the Couillard case the unlawful taking occurred after the permission to test the car given by DuRoy, he said.

Circuit Court Jury

Witnesses included DuRoy, Couillard, James Norick, Sgt. Edward Goldsworthy, Trooper Robert Anderson and Carroll Johnson.

Comprising the jury are the following:

Mighty Barrages Blast Red Lines

Planes concentrated on breaking up this near record volume of supplies being rushed toward the front. An FEAF communique said Red trucks "suffered very heavy losses."

The Allied artillery barrage on the western front was one of the heaviest of the Korean war.

Gunfire reached to within 12 miles of Kaesong, site of disrupted truce talks which the Reds broke off 42 days ago.

Shells hit the Reds in ridges running northeast from Koranpo. The town is 12 miles east of Kaesong just south of the 38th parallel, and 28 miles northwest of Seoul.

Peak Lost To Reds

Censorship prevented correspondents from pinpointing the full extent of the artillery fire.

The barrage opened up Tuesday night after a day in which the Reds halted United Nations attacks in the west, recaptured a towering peak in the east, and probed Allied positions in the center.

They blanketed Red positions about the time Communists usually launch their night assaults. The steady pounding continued Wednesday.

A general headquarters communique from Tokyo reported an estimated Red battalion, close to 1,000 men, launched a probing attack in the west-central sector and was still attacking at dawn Wednesday.

Front line dispatches reported the Reds held off a three-pronged Allied assault in this sector west of Chorwon. U. N. tanks and artillery supported the attack.

Allied infantrymen using flame throwers moved in to scorch the Chinese bunkers. Associated Press Correspondent George McArthur reported.

Another assault from the south was stalled just below the crest. Opposing infantrymen were within hand grenade range of each other, McArthur said.

TRUCE HOPES FADE

TOKYO — (P) — Gen. Omar Bradley left Tokyo today after a short-visit that included a two-day tour of the Korean battle front.

Shortly before his departure for Washington the chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff held a secret conference with top American military leaders here amid fading hopes of a negotiated truce in Korea.

Bradley's plane left at 7:20 p. m. (5:20 a. m. EST). He was accompanied by his wife and Charles Bohlen, U. S. state department expert on Russia.

For the seventh day Red leaders ignored a United Nations proposal to reopen armistice talks at a new spot in no-man's-land.

Armies On Rhine Hold Maneuvers

By TOM STONE

FRANKFURT, Germany — (P) — Europe's biggest allied training exercise since the last world war began today in West Germany.

It is called "exercise combine" and its purpose is to teach American, British and French troops — an estimated 160,000 are in the line for the eight-day maneuvers — how to repel any enemy force that would try to smash westward through the iron curtain.

Gen. Thomas T. Handy, 59-year-old commanding general of the European command, said he hoped that the maneuvers on the doorstep of Communist Europe "may serve as a warning to any potential aggressor."

"Exercise combine" follows on the heels of similar but smaller scale maneuvers by the British and the French.

All were designed for the same purpose — to learn to fight together against any attack from the east.

American forces taking part include the United States 7th Army commanded by Lt. Gen. Mantion S. Eddy, the 12th Airforce, and U. S. Naval forces on duty along the Rhine.

The First and Fourth Infantry divisions and the Second Armored division are under 7th Army command for the exercise.

Chinese Reds To Fight French

TAIPEH, Formosa — (P) — The Chinese National government said today Chinese Communists have completed plans to intervene in Indo-China's civil war this fall.

Through its Central News agency the Nationalist government said Chinese Reds would send 80,000 front line troops to help Vietnam forces fight French union troops.

The agency said that Ho Chi Minh, leader of Indochinese rebels, and Red China have asked Soviet Russia to accuse France before the United Nations of committing aggression in Indochina.

Central News said it was significant that the program was mapped when the United States promised more and speedier aid to the French high commissioner and Commander-in-Chief, Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny.

The story said an autumn offensive in Indochina was planned. It gave no date.

Loggers Elect New Officers

Glidden Man Is New President

New officers of the Timber Producers' Association of Northern Michigan were elected at the annual Lake States Logging Congress in Marquette during the weekend with three Upper Peninsula men winning office.

Those elected were:

President — George Corrigan, Glidden, Wis.

Treasurer — M. L. Anderson, Wakefield.

Secretary — Manager — Laurel Heinke, Ironwood.

Escanaba was chosen for the site of the 1952 convention with a Wisconsin city to be chosen as the 1953 convention site. The 1954 convention will be held in Michigan and will go to the town that makes the best bid.

In relating the highlights of the convention to members of the Calumet Chamber of Commerce, James Aldridge of Ray Aldridge, Ind., of Mohawk, reminded members that at present Calumet is unable to handle such a convention unless it can sit 400 or more banquets.

"It isn't a hopeless case and it is possible that our facilities could be improved by that time (1954)," he said. "It does bring in a tremendous amount of people, and it would get this convention to our town," he concluded.

Three Bankers Held For Embezzlements Of Nearly 3 Million

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. — (P) — FBI agents have arrested a third banker in this western Pennsylvania town on a charge of embezzlement.

The arrest was the second at the First National Bank of New Kensington and the seventh in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia within a year.

It raises the total bank defalcations to nearly $3,000,000.

The latest to be arrested is Otto R. Grotelend, 51-year-old teller at the First National Bank and an employee there since 1933. He is accused of embezzling $16,000.

The arrest grew out of the investigation of the alleged embezzlement of $550,000 by William P. Smeltzer, an assistant cashier at the same bank. Agents said Grotelend said he used the bank's money to play slot machines.

Convicts Transferred

JACKSON — (P) — Warden Julian N. Frisbie said yesterday the transfer of two bus loads of inmates to Ionia reformatory will reduce the Southern Michigan prison population to below the 6,300 mark.

Odds Are With Giants Today

NEW YORK — (P) — The Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants settle the National league championship in the final, tense game of their playoff today with the winner engaging the New York Yankees in baseball's world series opening tomorrow.

The day dawned warm and humid, with an early fog. The forecast was for fair weather.

Everything rides on today's game. The Giants won the first of the best two-out-of-three series 3-1, and the Dodgers won the second 10-0.

The opposing teams brought forth their best pitchers — Sal Maglie (23-6) for the Giants and Don Newcombe (20-9) for the Dodgers.

Maglie has beaten the Dodgers five out of six times this season, and Newcombe has beaten the Giants five out of seven.

Because the final game is being played at the Polo Grounds, and because of the spectacular late season surge of the Giants to the fore, the Giants ruled as slight favorites by odds of 6½ to 5.

Relief Secrecy Plan Opposed

Governors Vote For Publicity

By JACK BELL

GATLINBURG, Tenn. — (P) — The nation's governors voted unanimously approval today of a move to reserve to the states the right to decide whether their relief rolls shall be made public.

The action came on motion of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, after Gov. James F. Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, demanded in a stormy session with Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing that the governors act on the question. Georgia's Governor Herman E. Talmadge was another critic of the secrecy rule.

Federal law now requires secrecy of relief rolls. The senate has approved a measure to lift the secrecy ban but the measure still is pending in the house.

Byrnes asked the 43rd annual governors conference to go on record in favor of relief roll publicity. Talmadge said such publicity would reduce relief rolls by at least one-third.

But others, not in the plane, will be checking its progress with the utmost concern. An admiralty spokesman said the royal navy will have its vessels "in the right places" in the eastern half of the Atlantic, and the Canadian navy will have craft suitably disposed in the western half.

Fishy Deal Seen In Boyle Retainer

name, and there may be others." Miss Boone is among persons named by Theodore Link, a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in telling about his preparation of stories declaring that Boyle accepted $8,000 from Lithofold at a time when it was negotiating government loans. Link declined last week to name a "Mr. X" and "Mr. Y" whom he called his major sources of information.

Retainer Admitted

Boyle has denied he got the $8,000, as have Lithofold officials. He testified he received $1,250 as a retainer fee not related to $565,000 of loans, since repaid, which the company got from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Boyle acknowledged arranging a meeting between Lithofold negotiators and the then RFC chairman, Harley Hise, but denied he tried to influence RFC.

Link said Miss Boone told him she had orders as a bookkeeper for Lithofold to keep "face down" on her desk all records concerning payments to Boyle and Max Siskind, the Democratic chairman's former law associate.

Two members of the committee, Senators McClellan (D-Ark.) and Mundt (R-SD), told Boyle at a public hearing last week that either he had lied under oath in denying the $8,000 payments, or had been libeled by Link and the

Plan Hearing On Zoning Proposal

The city planning commission last night decided to hold a public hearing to determine whether a small area in the 200 block of South 23rd street, now spot-zoned for industrial use, should be rezoned to residential, local business or commercial use.

The commission also voted against recommending rezoning the Muelhaus property on Lake Shore drive to local business, as requested by the owner.

A proposal to write a new zoning ordinance for purposes of clarification was discussed by the commission. A committee comprising Commissioners Gilbert, Bartella, Lewis and Niederauer was appointed to consider the proposal.
